Expect to Send Flotilla to the Front in the Name of This

Washington society will be out in force to attend the French flotilla benefit, which will be held this afternoon at the New National Theater, and it is expected that sufficient money will be raised to equip a complete fiotilia of surgical auto-mebiles to be sent to the front in the name of this city. Mme. Calve will head the notable list Mme. Caive will head the notation of artists who will take part in the benefit, and will sing the "Marseillaise," with a chorus of 114 Washington singers, or aniset by Miss Caroline Lewis, and "I am deeply touched by the sympathy I have received in my effort to aid the French flotilla—which is really a neutral organization, caring as it does for the wounded of all nations, I never have refused to sing for the French cause, and on my return to France in the spring, will go to sing the "Marseillaise" to the fighting soldiers. I will become again a nurse in the hospital, or do any again a nurse in the hospital, or do any service my country may require of me. "I have no bitterness, only a deep, deep sorrow, at the terrible conditions which are never absent from my mind.
